SHOULD KNOW HOW TO SPEND WISELY

SAYS DR. FRED KELLER AT THE C. OF C. BANQUET.

EUROPE FACES CHAOS

Election of Socialist Premier Is Indication, He Says—Judicious Savings Also Essential.

The judicious spending of money as well as systematic saving was stressed last night by Dr. Fred Keller in his talk on "Earning and Spending" to the members of the Chamber of Commerce at the regular weekly banquet at the Bainum Hotel.

Dr. Keller emphasized the responsibility for spending money, regardless of the amount one possessed. The spending and saving of money is not an individual problem, it is a problem in which all society is affected, Dr. Keller said.

"The great majority of people do not know how to save and how to spend properly," was the key-note of Dr. Keller's address last night. Taking Europe as an example, he called attention to the present rate of spending existing there, and declared the war debts to the United States should not be cancelled as long as the various European countries continue their present rate of spending. The election of Ramsay Macdonald, a Socialist, as British premier, is indeed a sign of Britain's precarious position, Dr. Keller said.

"Only the vast and almost unboundless resources of America have prevented such a catastrophe in our own country," Dr. Keller continued. "But if we continue our present rate of unwise spending, we will be face to face with such a critical situation within a few centuries."

But this does not mean that people should cease spending, Dr. Keller pointed out. It means they should cease spending unwisely.

Dr. Keller then called attention to the fact that there are five million persons in the United States dependent upon society for the common necessities of life. Because of these people, the rest have to work all the more to support them. Many of these five million once had plenty of money but they did not know how to save or how to spend, Dr. Keller continued.

"The kind of prosperity that we want in America is a permanent prosperity," Dr. Keller continued. "The town that is built on substantial earning of money is the kind of a town that will last."

A good citizen, Dr. Keller continued is the kind who "can stand on his own two feet and contribute something to the welfare of society. The substantial man is the one who knows how to accumulate, Dr. Keller added.

Miss Ruth Houchens played two piano solos and Miss Anna Daugherty gave two vocal solos. L. B. Tracy presided at the meeting last night.

FREAR TELLS OF THE CORN PROJECT

IS LEADER OF MOVEMENT IN THE STATE OF MISSOURI

NEED 150 FARMERS

He and Kinnaird Urge Farmers of the County to Plant 5-Acre Plots and Enter Contest

D. W. Frear, crops department of the agricultural extension service of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture, has prepared the article given below on the corn improvement project that is being carried on in the state of Missouri. Mr. Frear is the leader of the project. R. A. Kinnaird, county extension agent, has announced this project for Nodaway County and is urging the farmers of the county to participate in the corn improvement project and to enter the corn contest, the show to be held some time next winter. Mr. Frear enlists the aid of the farmers to plant five acre tracts of corn and says that it is almost necessary for about 150 farmers in the county to enter this project and the more that will enter corn in the show next winter the more prizes to be offered. He has sent the following to Mr. Kinnaird:

100 Bu. Corn Per Acre

"Many of the corn yield contests in Missouri have been won with yields of 100 bushels or more of corn per acre.

"Few farmers are raising as much corn to the acre as is possible, or most profitable.

"Competition is as much an incentive to producing larger corn yields as it to winning in other contests.

"Five acre yield corn contests have for their purpose the stimulation of interest in better corn production so that the yield per acre may be increased and the quality of corn improved.

"Increasing the yield per acre does not necessarily mean larger total production of corn but means that the same amount of corn can be produced on fewer acres. This leaves more land for pastures, legumes and other crops It means a lower cost per bushel since larger yields per acre cost less per bushel than small yields.

'A five acre yield corn contest is being conducted in this county. Any person operating a farm or piece of land in the county personally or on shares or any member of the family of such person may join the contest, providing he has at least five acres of corn in one tract in cultivation.

'From $150 to $400 or more will be paid in from eight to sixteen prizes, according to the number who finish the contest. Prizes will be awarded on the basis of 40 per cent on the yield of the five acre plot and 60 per cent on the quality of the two bushels of corn, which are to be entered in the show at the close of the contest.

"To make the contest a success 150 to 200 members are necessary.

"Corn growers are urged to join this contest and show what the county can do in corn production.

Counties which have had contests for several years find a substantial improvement in the quality of corn raised and exhibited by those in the contest and an increase in the yield of corn as well as in the number who secure larger yields."

OPEN FORUMS WILL BE CLASS FEATURE

BUSINESS MEN'S CLASS BEHIND NEW MOVEMENT

FIRST THURSDAY NIGHT

Constitutional Amendments to be Discussed by M. E. Ford and Farm Club Representative

The Men's Bible class of the First Christian church here has voted to conduct a series of what they are calling "Open Forum" meetings. At these meetings all present will be given opportunity to discuss the topics that come up, asking questions and offering suggestions. A committee has been named to have in charge the selection of the topics and the arranging of the programs. The committee is R. E. Snodgrass, teacher of the class, Chairman. Dr. Fred Keller, George Butts, W. E. Goforth and Edward W. Gray.

The first meeting is to be held on Thursday night of this week, and the subject will be the "Constitutional Amendments." Inasmuch as this will be the only opportunity for the discussion of this topic before the vote next Tuesday, the committee thought best to consider it, giving to all in the community a chance to say their say regarding them.

In announcing this program, Mr. Snodgrass has the following to say:

"There seems to be altogether too much apathy in this community among all people toward the vote next Tuesday on the Amendments submitted to the voters of Missouri. For a number of years there has been a feeling on the part of our educational leaders that Missouri needed a new constitution. So strong was this sentiment that finally a Convention was called by the vote of the citizenry of the state to re-write our old constitution or make such amendments to it as the Convention members believdd would be to the best interests of our state. The result of those months of work is in our hands and we are to pass judgment upon it next Tuesday."

"In recent days, things have been developing that indicate some powerful moves to defeat at least half of these amendments. For instance the Missouri Farmers Association is recommending through their Executive Board that all farmers over the state vote NO on ten of the amendments. The Catholic Church of the state instructed their members to vote No on one of them. These bodies may be just right in their recommendations, it is not the purpose of this statement to say about that, only our "Open Forum" committee believes that a public meeting should be held at which time everyone will be given opportunity to have their freeest discussion and air whatever views he may have regarding them."

"We are making every possible effort to have a representative of the Missouri Farmers Association present this Thursday night to defend their position on the ten amendments. Mr. Ford will speak in behalf of the Convention's action. A lively discussion is promised and it is hoped that the Court room will be filled. Everyone is invited, both men and women, and we are asking that all come ready to make some helpful contribution to the meeting."

"I might say further, that it is our purpose now, to hold these Open Forum meetings about every two weeks. Real live "hot" topics will be discussed. If anyone in this community has subjects he would like discussed, drop a card to the Committee chairman and they will be given due consideration. It might be well to state here that this Class which is assuming the responsibility of these meetings has no axes to grind, no hobbies to ride, no selfish interests at stake. It is our sincere desire to give the public of this community a chance to get together and in a friendly and dignified manner discuss the questions that are confronting us locally, nationally, and internationally. Every side of every question will be given the same respectful hearing. The help of the public is earnestly solicited."

The meeting Thursday night will be held in the Court House at 7:30 o'clock and everyone is invited.

Defeat of Mellon Bill in Senate Is Forecast

House Turns Down Amendment Offered by Representative Madden of Illinois, 244 to 152

Washington, Feb. 19—Defeat of the Mellon tax reduction plan in the Senate was forecast this afternoon when the House, sitting as a committee of the whole, rejected an amendment by Representative Madden, Republican of Illinois, to accept the Mellon plan with but one change—increase of 1 per cent in the minimum surtax rate.

The vote was 244 to 152.

Madden's amendment was offered solely for the purpose of getting a vote on the Mellon plan. It was proposed as a substitute for the so-called Frear plan, supported by the "insurgent" Republicans. The vote on the Frear plan was to follow.

TEAPOT DOME WILL BE BIGGEST ISSUE

BITTER DEBATE IN THE SENATE ON THE SCANDAL.

COOLIDGE IS ASSAILED

Senator Pat Harrison Declares President Is "Smeared With Oil"—Predicts Democratic Victory.

Washington, Feb. 19.—The Teapot Dome oil scandal will be the dominating issue in the coming Presidential campaign, spokesmen for both major parties agreed this afternoon during a hot partisan debate in the Senate.

The defeat of President Coolidge, if nominated, was predicted by Senator Pat Harrison, Democrat of Mississippi, because "he has been smeared with oil."

The President was immediately defended by Senator Moses, Republican of New Hampshire, and Senator Edge, Republican of New Jersey, who declared the Republican party would welcome a campaign between Coolidge and "any attorney for Doheny" with the Teapot Dome case as the issue.

Harrison declared that Coolidge would be defeated by McAdoo, Underwood, Ralston or Copeland if any one of them is nominated by the Democrats.

"You can't smear the reputation of as fine a citizen, as honorable a public officer, and as splendid a man as there is in the whole nation (McAdoo) by trying to erect a smoke screen over the corruption in your own party," Harrison shouted at the Republican side. "If McAdoo is nominated, he will have a run-away race with "Cautious" Cal if the Senator from Alabama (Underwood) is nominated, "cautious" Cal won't even know he is running; if the Senator from Indiana (Ralston) who has won from every Republican he has gone up against, is named, "Cautious" Cal won't even get started.'

LEE'S ADDRESS ON EDUCATIONAL COSTS

FRYER TELLS OF DIRECTOR'S DUTIES IN HEALTH ACTIVITIES

ATTENDANCE IS LIGHT

Phillips Speaks on School Budget—Bennett of Graham Shows How to Care for Property

The cost of educating a child in relation to the tax payers of the district was the subject of the address of Chas. A. Lee, state superintendent of school, to the school board members in this county at the circuit court room this afternoon.

Due to the bad condition of the roads the attendance at the morning session was light, only twenty-eight registering before noon. However, many more came in for the afternoon meeting.

"The School Budget and Work of School Board in Planning for the Next Year" was the subject of the talk given by Homer T. Phillips of the State Teachers College this morning. Mr. Phillips was for eight years county superintendent of schools and knew his subject well.

Mr. Phillips said it "should be the duty of the school board to ascertain the needs of the school for which he is a director and then make appropriation for these needs. It is only by personal visits to the school and consultation with the county superintendent of schools that the needs of the school can be ascertained.

"Too often the school board member does not know the needs and can not intelligently make a budget for the year." Mr. Phillips pleaded for wise spending of the budget adequate for the carrying on of the school in the best possible manner.

Dr. C. P. Fryer, physician of the Nodaway County Health Department, spoke at the afternoon meeting, telling of the director's duty in the health activities of the school.

George Bennett, a member of the Graham Board, told how the school property should be taken care of. The meeting was in charge of Leslie G. Somerville, county superintendent of schools.

The address of Mr. Lee, follows in part:

"I have heard much said recently," Lee said, "concerning the high cost of education. Of course this is a subject in which we are all interested, but before we talk much about the high cost of education let us take complete stock of our educational system and what it is costing us at the present time. I might ask the question "What does our public school system cost?" I asked at this meeting, "What is the average assessed valuation of a person living in the school district?" Some one mentioned ten thousand dollars. I also asked. What levy they were paying in some of the districts. One member said, 50 cents. The person who is paying school taxes on the assessed valuation of $10,000 at the rate of 50 cents per one hundred dollars paid $50.00 in taxes. I also asked this particular person how many children he sent to school. He said, two. So this person was sending two children to school for $50 a year, or in other words $25 apiece. Allowing eight months for a year, this would be a little more than $3 a months; four weeks in a month, this would be 75 cents a week; five days a week, this would be 15 cents a day. In other words, this particular man was sending his children to school six hours a day for 15 cents a day.

"There is always a question in my mind when anyone begins to talk about high cost of education. The question is just this, I just wonder if the person is a strong supporter of the public school system. I want to throw out this word of warning, that it is dangerous talk; that it is dangerous when one begins to talk about the high cost of education. If you will take a little time you will find out that after every great war we have had in history there has been a retrenchment program in education. The children of the past generations have paid for the wars. The cost of every great war in history has been paid in a large measure by the boys and girls of that particular generation and I, for one, am not in favor of the boys and girls of this generation paying the cost of the war we have just had.

"The board must plan now for next year. The work of the school board so far as this year is concerned is al-

TO START GREATER DRIVE FOR M'ADOO

TEN POINTS FOR HIS CAMPAIGN OUTLINED.

TO WAR ON CORRUPTION

New International Peace Conference, Farm Aid, Tariff and Tax Reforms Also Named as "Planks."

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Ten points on which the drive for the nomination and electoral college votes will be made today constituted the new William Gibbs McAdoo pledge.

They were presented to his followers after the "hard-headed conference" Mr. McAdoo had requested proved to be a series of eulogies. A few of the state McAdoo managers had conceded that his services as attorney for Edward L. Doheny might cost him a few votes, but all agreed they wanted him as candidate.

McAdoo appeared at the rally in answer to the unanimous demands of the delegates. It was with a campaign pledge for merciless war on corruption, a new international peace conference, removal of Wall Street's grip on the treasury department, tariff tax and railroad reforms, farm aid, dry enforcement, legislation setting up a labor code and a clean up of the veterans' bureau, that campaign managers hope to turn votes to McAdoo.

Followers of the former cabinet member were homeward bound today convinced that any doubt as to his availability had been removed. Thirty states were represented at the meeting yesterday.

Coolidge Faces Task of Mending Break

More Than Half Dozen Names Before President for Denby's Place in Cabinet—Several Handicaps.

Washington, Feb. 19.—The task of mending the first break in his cabinet was before President Coolidge today.

Less than twenty-four hours after the announcement of the resignation of Edwin Denby, more than a half-dozen names were before the chief executive for consideration. Within another twenty-four hours that many more will have been placed at his disposal.

In selecting the successor to Edwin Denby, the first of his official family to give way before the odium of the great oil scandal, President Coolidge is handicapped by several important factors.

Chief among these is the impending Presidential campaign and the resultant need of making an appointment that will be politically wise.

Second, is the fact that certain of the men who would be given the most favorable consideration come from states which already boast a member in the cabinet, while others are inclined to accept the honor for one reason or another.

Among those most prominently mentioned for the position are: Former Congressman Patrick Kelley of Lansing, Mich., Former Senator Miles Poindexter of Washington, and Charles B. Warren of Detroit.

Mrs. W. W. Wygal and son of Colome, S. Dak., arrived in Maryville today to visit at the home of Mrs. Wygal's brother, Robert Larmer, and family. They will also visit in Ravenwood with Mrs. Wygal's mother, Mrs. J. T. Larmer.

MATTER NOT DISCUSSED AT TODAY'S CABINET MEETING

COOLIDGE IS SILENT

No More Upheavals in Cabinet is Forecast at Present—Denby is Present at Meeting

Washington, Feb. 19—Harry M. Daugherty, Attorney-General "stood pat" today.

His resignation could be had by President Coolidge for the asking, but the President did not ask it and Daugherty did not tender it.

Official announcement was made at the White House following the cabinet meeting that the Attorney-General did not resign. It was also announced that the President had not discussed with Daugherty the question of his probable retirement and the matter was in no way referred to in today's session.

Thus disappeared a story that had all Washington on the keen edge of nervous expectancy which was that the Attorney-General, under fire, would put it up to the cabinet today as to whether he would follow Secretary Denby into retirement.

Further details came to light today concerning the lengthy conference at the White House Sunday night. Daugherty, Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho, as well as the President were present at the conference.

At this conference, it is said, the Attorney-General vigorously defended himself against whispered charges but declared his resignation was at Coolidge's disposal, if the President desired it. Coolidge puffed his cigar, but said nothing. Borah and Daugherty engaged in a lengthy argument, according to the reports circulating in the capital.

The Idaho Senator expressed the belief that Daugherty should resign for the good of the administration and Borah pointed out that the Department of Justice had taken no steps to inquire into the legality of the oil leases. To this the Attorney-General could not see it that way. His retirement or retention he said was a matter between himself and the President and if the latter desired his resignation, it could, of course, be obtained. Otherwise, he would fight for vindication. During this the President sat silent.

The members of the President's official family, Secretary Denby who resigned yesterday included, met at the usual hour at the White House and went through the usual cabinet session. There was even no informal discussion of further cabinet upheavals, it was said by those present.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty will have a statement to make immediately after today's cabinet meeting, it was announced this morning at the department of justice.

It is understood the Attorney-General will consult the opinion of the President and the members of his cabinet as to whether he should resign, and will be guided accordingly. His statement, it is understood, will be based on what develops at this meeting.

The cabinet assembled as usual shortly after 10:30 o'clock this morning. Edwin Denby, who resigned yesterday as Secretary of the Navy, attended and appeared in excellent spirits apparently from relief of the strain which was over. Attorney-General Daugherty was an early arrival. He joked with reporters and smilingly refused to say anything about his resignation.

THE INNOCENT JAILED

For fifty-four years a certain Frenchman has been held in jail for a murder he did not commit.

Investigation of his case which has been going on for some years now reveals him innocent of the crime for which he was incarcerated. He has been vindicated by the French courts and damages of 20,000 francs have been awarded him together with an annual pension of 12,000 francs.

No amount of money will give back to this man the fifty-four years he has wasted in jail but it is a recognition of the contention that a man unjustly held in prison is entitled to damages. In this country men have been imprisoned and later released without the state offering them anything to compensate them for their unjust incarceration. The principle should be generally applied and the man who is held in prison for a crime he did not commit should be amply compensated by his government. In this respect French justice is ahead of that in many other lands.

MARYVILLE GETS RICH MILK SUPPLY

R. A. KINNAIRD MAKES TESTS OF 64 HEAD DAIRY COWS

PER CENT BUTTER FAT

Runs Higher Than the Average of Jersey Cows at Agricultural Experiment Stations

Maryville milk consumers are getting a richer supply of milk than the average milk from Jersey cows at the Agricultural Experiment Stations in this state, according to R. A. Kinnaird, county extension agent.

Yesterday Mr. Kinnaird made milk tests from sixty-four cows from herds that furnish Maryville with milk and found that from these sixty-four Jersey cows the average butter fat is 5.37 per cent. This is a higher average than from the Jersey herds of the Experimental Stations in the state, the average at these stations being 5.14 per cent butter fat.

This shows that the Maryville dairy men are not only supplying good milk but milk richer in butter fat than even the average of the Jersey breed.

The per cent of butter of the milk tests of the sixty-four Jersey sows that Mr. Kinnaird tested yesterday ran from the lowest percentage of 4 to 7.8 per cent.

Mr. Kinnaird made tests from the herds of the following dairymen yesterday:

J. T. Wells, thirty-five head of cows; E. C. Moberly, fifteen head of cows, Hartness Bros., six head; Eugene Ogden, seven head and F. P. Robinson, one head.

Fall Won Fame By Attack On Wilson's Mexican Policy

Albert Bacon Fall, former Secretary of the Interior in the Harding Cabinet, who leased the rich Elk Hills, California, and Teapot Dome, Wyoming, naval oil reserve lands to E. L. Doheny and Harry F. Sinclair, respectively, first gained national prominence when, as a Senator from New Mexico, he led the bitter assault in the Senate upon the late Woodrow Wilson's Mexican policy.

In one of the most dramatic speeches ever delivered in the Senate, Fall, who had had valuable mine and oil holdings in the southern republic, demanded on March 9, 1914, armed invasion by the United States into Mexico to protect American interests.

Asked Armed Invasion

The Senate sat enthralled throughout his passionate plea, portraying a reign of terror in Mexico that had resulted in the destruction of millions of dollars of American property, he said.

"The Administration owes it to the people, the world and to Mexico to act forcefully and speedily to restore order and tranquility in the Mexican republic," Fall shouted.

Urging the immediate use of the army and navy to assist in wiping out "outrages upon American lives and properties," Fall said:

"I realize, and no one more fully than I, the consequences which might ensue from taking the necessary steps to discharge the duties to which I have referred. But to defer that action is to aggravate conditions and invite more serious consequences."

Fall's speech raised a storm in the Senate. A committee was delegated to investigate Mexican conditions. Fall was made chairman.

Praised By Doheny.

His work as chairman of that committee elicited from Doheny, in testimony in the oil investigation, the statement that Fall "had performed one of the greatest services in history to the American people." Doheny is the largest American investor in Mexican oil properties and for 40 years has been a warm personal friend of the former Secretary.

Fall has had a romantic career, typical of those who early ventured into the Southwest in search of wealth. He was born in Frankfort, Kentucky, on November 26, 1861. He attended country schools for a while, but at an early age was forced to work and journeyed to the Southwest, first working on a cattle ranch, later becoming a mining prospector.

It was while prospecting in Mexico and in the then Territory of New Mexico that Fall met Doheny. As the years went by fate smiled kindly upon Doheny, but in Fall's quest for riches the goal always was just beyond the horizon. He acquired extensive holdings in Mexico and New Mexico, but his ventures never were as enormously profitable as those of his friend.

Harding Appointee

When Doheny drifted to California, Fall returned to a ranch in New Mexico, where he held numerous public offices before coming to Washington, being elected to the Senate by the Legislature on March 27, 1912. He remained continuously in the Senate until called to the Cabinet by the late President Harding.

During the Spanish-American War Fall rose to the captaincy of Company H, First Territorial Volunteer Infantry. Fall was a close friend of Theodore Roosevelt, who, after the war, appointed him Attorney-General of New Mexico.

Fall's political career was varied. He began as a Democrat, changed to a Progressive to support Roosevelt, but came to the Senate as a Republican.

In the Senate Fall, an able orator, was recognized as one of the leading authorities on international law. He learned law by self-instruction and gained considerable prominence when practicing between 1889 and 1904.

A Tribute to Service

In the February 3 issue of the Chicago Herald-Examiner, Mr. Arthur Brisbane says:

"Henry Ford said to this writer a couple of years ago — 'Standard Oil is the most ably managed concern in the United States'."

Naturally such sweeping commendation is gratifying but if, as we suspect, and want to believe, Mr. Ford's remark was prompted by his knowledge that this Company is succeeding in rendering a superior service to the public, then it is doubly pleasing.

For service in its biggest, broadest interpretation is the principle governing all the activities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

The Management of this Company construes the perfunctory manufacture and delivery of products as something less than service.

It is the whole-souled, enthusiastic performance of these functions that constitutes real service.

To gain a new and useful product from a single base — crude petroleum — without in any way affecting the quality of other useful products—that is service.

To maintain, unfailingly, a superior standard of quality—that is service.

To make it possible for the man in the remote places to get Standard Oil products with dependable regularity — that is service.

To produce an oil that will increase the revolutions per minute of machinery in other essential indu[illegible] thereby increase their output—that is service.

To manufacture petroleum products of a quality that will prolong the life and add to the power of the modern internal combustion engine—that is service.

To maintain a fair and equitable price for its products—that is service.

Skill in management of any business is mirrored in the service rendered. An organization which puts profits ahead of service cannot endure.

Firm in its conviction that the greater the service, the greater the profit, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) looks to service as its chief concern.

Another Reason Why—

Buick Body Construction

In constructing its open car bodies, Buick uses bolts in fastening the metal braces to the wood, instead of ordinary screws. These bolts passing completely through the wooden frame prevent joints from loosening under driving strains. A more than usual number of bolts secure the Buick body to the chassis, holding it rigidly in position and entirely eliminating all squeaks and rattles.

HISTORY OF FORMULA IS GIVEN TO PUBLIC

Famous New Restorative Medicine Is Result of M. Andre's Unceasing Struggle Toward Ideal Conceived in his Youth.

What is Karnak and the mystery surrounding its discovery?

The story has its beginning in the little town of St. Sulpice, France, where, as a boy, M. Andre was apprenticed to a local apothecary. Here he worked with mortar and pestle compounding medicines as directed by his master. The youth showed remarkable aptitude for his work and was encouraged to study the leading authorities on medicine. Even in his early days he was inspired by the theory that human ills had best be corrected by Nature's own medicines and became imbued with the idea of discovering a principle which would embody all the corrective forces of Nature itself.

In the course of time Andre became a full-fledged chemist. His shop became prosperous and he decided to travel and penetrate the health secrets of other lands and analyze and experiment with roots and herbs whose medicinal value were unknown. The search led him to many strange and little known corners of the world. Everywhere he delved into the knowledge of medicine practiced by the peoples with whom he came in contact. He learned much to add to the knowledge already in hand.

Then followed an eventful trip to Egypt, that land where so much of the past is veiled in mystery.

Near the city of Karnak M. Andre met an old and very intelligent Egyptian and there seemed to be a prophetic bond of friendship between the two from the first meeting. One evening in discussing the Khorebi (ancient men of medicine) the Egyptian told of certain traditions that had been handed down in his family from father to son for so long that M. Andre was astonished at their antiquity. He listened eagerly, for they gave a clue to the thing nearest his own heart. In truth Andre was nearer success than he then knew.

We next find him back in his laboratory at St. Sulpice immersed in more experiments ,and his years of work were beginning to bear fruit. He evolved what became known as "The Karnak tests" and finally announced to the world Karnak itself, the master health-builder. It made him famous almost over night.

That he chose the name Karnak for the crowning achievement of his life work bespeaks M. Andre's gratitude and the purpose behind his unceasing effort, for the ancient temple of Karnak typifies more strongly, perhaps, than anything else in the world, the one thing for which M. Andre had been so long seeking—enduring strength.—Adv.

Karnak, Sensational New Medicine, Now Sold At Local Store

Thousands Acclaim the Wonderful Restorative Power of M. Andre's Remarkable Discovery and Declare It a Boon to Suffering Humanity.

HAS HAD SENSATIONAL SUCCESS

Karnak, the sensational new health-builder discovered by M. Pierre Andre, noted French chemist, which has been accomplishing such phenomenal results in the larger cities, is now on sale at Maryville Drug Co.

Owing to the enormous demand for Karnak, and the sensational success it has achieved everywhere it has been introduced this enterprising firm has placed with the manufacturers of Karnak the largest order ever given here for a single medicine.

Karnak is a purely vegetable medicine of remarkable purity and wonderful efficacy in the treatment of stomach and digestive troubles, weakness, nervousness, rheumatism, sour stomach, fatigue, catarrhal conditions, insomnia, loss of appetite, torpid liver, constipation, gassiness, auto-intoxication, dyspepsia, indigestion, mal-nutrition, a generally weak, run-down condition and a host of other symptoms and complaints not generally recognized as having their origin in stomach, abdominal and digestive derangements. As a general health builder and strength restorative Karnak has become the sensation of the drug trade everywhere it has been introduced.

M. PIERRE ANDRE,

The action of Karnak is so natural and beneficial that it has won the name of "the master health-builder." It increases the appetite for wholesome food and helps the digestion turn this food into strengthening nourishment which builds up firm flesh and strong muscular tissue; it strengthens the organs of elimination, purifies the blood stream and builds up the whole body in tone, vigor and vitality.

Those wishing to regain their former robust health or build up their strength and stamina should not fail to avail themselves of this remarkable medicine.

The decision as to the award of the agency was made after a careful survey here to determine the store best equipped to serve the public, stated Mr. H. C. Thorburn, president of Drug Products, Inc., the million-dollar corporation formed to distribute M. Andre's famous medicine in this country.

The management at the Maryville Drug Co. was enthusiastic over having won the Karnak agency. "We are simply elated," it was stated. "M. Andre's famous preparation is of such wonderful merit and reputation that for me to comment on it would be superfluous. It has met with sensational success everywhere and will be sold by us under the strict guarantee that if the first bottle does not produce substantial benefits the purchase price will be refunded. This shows the unlimited confidence of both the manufacturers and ourselves in Karnak. It is unnecessary to say more."

RESULTS FROM KARNAK ARE GUARANTEED

President Thorburn, of Karnak Company, Issues Statement to Public.

Karnak is sold under a strict guarantee that the first bottle will produce beneficial results or the purchase price will be refunded without question. Both the manufacturers and the local distributors stand squarely behind this guarantee.

This policy was announced by Mr. H. C. Thorburn, President of Drug Products, Incorporated.

Substantiates Claims.

Mr. Thorburn first expressed his sincere appreciation of the interest and enthusiastic support given his Company by leading citizens here, who were interested in securing Karnak for this city. "This shows," said Mr. Thorburn, "that your citizens are anxious to try M. Andre's new discovery, and it is a privilege to tell the public that every bottle of the medicine will be sold under a strict guarantee. We want them to know that we always have and always will substantiate every claim made for Karnak.

"Our guarantee amounts simply to this: Any one who purchases a bottle of Karnak and is not benefited by it may get their money back without question.

"The great reputation of Karnak is founded on results—nothing else. People buy the medicine because of the great benefits they receive from its use. Thousands have written thanking us for the splendid results they get from it. A trial quickly shows that Karnak is a different and a better medicine. M. Andre gave to it distinctive characteristics and ingredients which place it in a class by itself, and it is not to be confused with other medicines.

Has Stood Test.

"Karnak is manufactured by one of America's oldest, largest and most reputable pharmaceutical houses, which subjected M. Andre's discovery to the most prolonged and searching scientific tests. These tests proved its restorative power to be little short of astonishing. Then our own company undertook a long series of tests under conditions of actual usage which confirmed in every detail the results announced by the pharmaceutical laboratories. Since then Karnak has achieved phenomenal success in the hands of the people everywhere it has been introduced. These are among the many underlying conditions which make it possible for us to offer such an unusual and unqualified guarantee."

AMENDMENT NO 8 DESERVES SUPPORT

M. E. FORD WRITES ON SOME PROPOSED CHANGES

NO ALIENS COULD VOTE

If Amendment No. 9 is Passed—Says that this Proposal Should be Adopted

To the Democrat-Forum.

It has been my purpose, in considering the proposed amendments, to give most time and space to those of most importaonce to this part of the state. Some very important amendments affect us only indirectly though of vast importance to this part of the state. State. Others are of little importance to any section though very necessary. Such is Amendment No. 8. If the amendment pertaining to the Executive Department is adopted a Board of Education will be substituted for the State Superintendent of Schools. There will be no provision for their impeachment and removal from office, in case occasion should arise when such action would be necessary. For that reason Amendment No. 8 provides for the impeachment of the members of the Board of Education as well as other state officers. Also the present constitution provided that a conviction can be had in impeachment cases by a two thirds vote of the Senator present. The house of Representatives brings the charge and the Senate tries the officer accused. A majority of the Senate constitutes a quorum and if two thirds of those present could convict then it would be possible for twelve Senators to convict. The change proposed would make it necessary for two thirds of those elected to vote for conviction or twenty three Senators. This will render it well nigh impossible for a state officer to be impeached and removed from office for political reasons only. While this amendment is of no personal interest to any one it is one that should be made and is entitled to support.

Suffrage and Elections

Amendment No. 9 pertains to Suffrage and Elections. At the present time any alien can come into the country and after taking out his first papers can exercise the right of suffrage without any further action. Many aliens have gone on for years voting at every election and yet never become citizens. If Amendment No. 9 is adopted no person will be permitted to legally exercise the right of suffrage but citizens. Aliens will not be allowed that privilege until they have been naturalized.

Another change which is provided for in Amendment No. 9 is one that allows the opening of the ballot boxes in prosecutions for violations of the election laws and in grand jury investigations. At the present time the ballot boxes can not be opened and this makes it almost impossible to establish frauds in elections. There is no question that ballot box stuffing and illegal voting is quite common in large cities. The people throughout the state are as much interested in preventing fraudlent voting as the people in the cities. A fraudlent vote cast for a state officer affects us as much as it does the people who live in the ward where the vote is cast and counted. The only way to stop election frauds is by strict enforcement of the election laws and vigorous prosecution of all who violate those laws. Secrecy of the ballot is all right but it ought not to shield the criminal who, in effect, disfranchises the honest, law-abiding citizen. Amendment No. 9 should be adopted.

Much Dissatisfaction

There is great dissatisfaction with the present system of primary elections. This feeling is not confined to the politicians, as is often contended. In fact those who make that charge are usually politicians themselves although they speak of "politicians" as if they did not belong to that class. But unquestionably the primary has its weaknesses as well as the old convention plan. Quite a number of the states have been trying to devise some plan to combine the good points in both schemes of making party nominations. It was believed by the framers of Amendment No. 10 that it would accomplish that very desirable result.

One of the most important committees in the convention and one of the ablest in its personnel, was the Committee on Counties, Cities, and Towns. And the work done by that committee is entitled to the highest degree of consideration. It was one of the hardest working committees and its task one of the most difficult. Yet it is of no great concern to us. It is important only to the people of the cities. At the time of the adoption of the Constitution of 1875 the government of cities was a very simple matter and of very little importance. But later it became one of the most important matters the people had to consider. Many of the ablest publicists of the country have spent years studying the problems of municipal government. Greater advancement has been made in city government than in any other field of political science. In fact it is the only department that can be said to have made any appreciable progress in the last fifty years. The cities of Missouri have been somewhat handicapped by the restriction placed upon them by the constitution and therefore Amendment No. 11, which is a Revised Article on Counties, Cities and Towns is very important.

County Government Antiquated

County government in Missouri, and in every other state, is the most antiquated of all. In fact county government has been referred to as the "Dark Continent" of American politics. But no constitutional changes are necessary to remedy this evil. It can be done by legislation. The only change that is made in county affairs is the change making the sheriff eligible to re-election as his own successor. This change does no harm nor does it do any good. The only direct benefit that will be derived by the people of this part of the state is from the relief that will be afforded the General Assembly. At the present time the General Assembly spends about one half of its time with problems that affect the cities and that the cities ought to handle for themselves. By relieving the General Assembly of this burden that body will have all the more time to consider questions that affect the interests of the whole state. Because Amendment No. 11 is of great importance to the cities and will be of untold benefit to them and because it will relieve the General Assembly of a burden that the cities themselves should bear, this amendment should receive the support of the people and I earnestly hope it will receive that support.

Yours truly,
M. E. FORD.

Librarian Says Boys Fond of Stories Based on Facts; Fairy Tales O. K.

Syracuse, Feb. 15.—Children's reading today is far more wholesome than it has ever been before, according to Miss Doris Wise, head of the Syracuse Library's Children's Department.

"The modern boy from the age of ten years is reading such excellent things as are written by Mark Twain, Dumas, Kipling and Booth Tarkington. They are keen for adventure stories, especially those founded on fact. Both boys and girls today are demanding facts, which, I suppose, goes with the age.

"Another interesting thing is that girls from the age of twelve years sist upon mystery stories, altho some girls read almost anything seems to me that girls choose fro wider range of literature than boy

"Fairy tales are read up to the of ten years. It is ridiculous to t fairy tales are bad for children.

Sleet and Electric Service

We have just experienced one of the worst sleet storms in more than fifteen years. Our lines stood up and in not a single instance was service interrupted due to the weight of the ice breaking the leads. What did interrupt the service was the falling of trees and heavy limbs over our lines. This also interfered with repairs, for in many cases lines were again broken by falling limbs after being repaired.

This service interruption is much regretted by us and we trust sincerely that those who own trees will assist us as much as possible by allowing us to do a reasonable amount of trimming. This will do much to prevent a repetition of the present trouble.

Harvesting the Winter Crops

Eggs To Be Used For Hatching Should Be Handled With Care

Now is the time to save eggs. Early chicks are most valuable. Heavy breeds should be hatched in February and March; Leghorns in March and April. One chick hatched at the proper time is worth three late chicks.

It is best to use eggs that are not over one week old but they can be held successfully for two weeks. The fresher the eggs, the larger the per cent that will hatch and the stronger and more vigorous the chicks.

Eggs for hatching should be handled carefully. Also care should be taken to see that the hands are free from dirt and grease. One should gather the eggs several times a day during the cold weather so that they will not become chilled and in hot weather to prevent germ development. They should be kept in a case, cabinet, or box covered with cloth to protect them from drafts and to prevent evaporation. If the egg loses the moisture that nature placed inside the shell, it can never be replaced.

Eggs should be kept in a cool, dry place and should be turned daily if kept longer than five days. The best temperature at which to keep eggs for hatching is from 50 to 60 degrees Fahrenheit. Don't keep them behind the stove. Remember that germ development starts at 68 degrees. When once incubation starts, it should be continuous and at high enough temperature to complete the operation.

Eggs that are excessively soiled with either mud or droppings or badly smeared with a broken eggs, should not be used. If they are only slightly stained, the dirt may be removed with a moist cloth just before placing the eggs in the incubator or under the hen.

More eggs are ruined by becoming too warm before they are set than by chilling, according to Noel Hall of the Missouri State Poultry Experiment Station, Mountain Grove. When an egg is kept in a room where the temperature is between 70 and 80 degrees, germ development starts. There is not enough heat to continue incubation; consequently we have a large number of "weak germs" or embryos that die during the first few days of incubation. Quite often the trouble is with the poultry raiser and not the birds.

Thousands of settings of eggs for hatching are shipped each year by parcel post and express, but in some instances rough handling in transit appears to affect the hatch from such eggs. A satisfactory method of shipping eggs for hatching is to use a common chip market basket, well lined on the inside with paper and excelsior. Each egg should be wrapped in paper and then enough excelsior should be put around it to make a ball about three inches in diameter. Eggs should be packed securely in the basket and covered with a layer of excelsior. Then the basket should be covered with a strong piece of unbleached muslin, which can be sewed on the basket or pushed up under the outside rim with a case knife.

In putting the cloth over the top, we suggest that the muslin top be cut about two inches larger than the top of the basket, the corners rounded off, and slits made at the handles so that the cloth will tuck in well.

Stiff corrugated cardboard cartons made to hold one to several settings may be secured. Also, baskets that are made especially for hatching eggs can be bought at a reasonable price. Yet the basket method seems to give best results. It would pay the poultry raiser who ships a large number of eggs to buy special baskets.

In caring for eggs that have been shipped, it is best to unpack the eggs as soon as received. If any are broken and have soiled others, wash the solid ones with lukewarm water and dry with a soft cloth. It is advisable to allow the eggs to remain in one position for 18 hours before setting, in order to let the yolk regain its normal position before the eggs are incubated.

How to build up your Weight

TO be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

SAFE FAT REDUCTION.

Reduce, reduce, reduce, is the slogan of all fat people. Get thin, be slim, is the cry of fashion and society. And the overfat wring their hands in mortification and helplessness; revolting at nauseating drugs, afraid of violent exercise, dreading the unwelcome and unsatisfying diet, until they hit upon the harmless Marmola Prescription and learn through it that they may safely reduce steadily and easily without one change in their mode of life, but harmlessly, secretly, and quickly reaching their ideal of figure, with a smoother skin, better appetite and health than they have ever known. And now comes Marmola Prescription Tablets from the same famously harmless formula as the Marmola Prescription. It behooves you to learn the satisfactory, beneficial effects of this great, safe, fat reducer by giving to your druggist one dollar for a box, or sending a like amount to the Marmola Company, 4612 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Mich., with a request that they mail to you a box of Marmola that the ymail to you a box of Marmola Prescription Tablets.—Adv.

JAYHAWKERS MUST WIN 5 TO 6 GAMES TO CLINCH RAG

SOONER DEFEAT UPSET

End of Seventh Week Missouri Moved up from 9th to 8th Place With 3 Wins and 9 Defeats

Missouri Valley Standings

	W.	L.	Pct.
Kansas	9	1	.900
Oklahoma	12	3	.800
Nebraska	7	5	.583
Washington	7	5	.583
Drake	4	6	.400
Grinnell	4	7	.364
K. S. A. C.	4	7	.364
Missouri	3	10	.200
Ames	2	8	.200

The seventh week of the Missouri Valley conference round robin basketball race left Kansas still out in front, but yet in a position fraught with danger so far as finishing first is concerned. The Jayhawkers must win five of six remaining games to cinch the title, unless Oklahoma should lose her one remaining game to Grinnell.

Oklahoma, on the other hand cannot do worse than second place in the final standings and has a chance for first place undisputed or a tie with Kansas for first. It may well be that the season's champion will not know until the final gun of the Kansas-Missouri game at Columbia, March 1.

The outstanding features of the week just closed were the defeat of Oklahoma by Missouri and the bumping of Washington by Drake. The Tiger victory stopped the Sooners' consecutive victories at ten games and brought Missouri from the basement to eighth place. The Drake victory definitely put Washington out of the running for the title.

The leading Jayhawks face the three games in three nights test in Iowa this week, beginning with Drake Wednesday, continuing with Grinnell and ending with Ames. Kansas has survived this test without defeat for two consecutive years and goes abroad with victories already turned in this season over Drake and Ames. After these games Kansas will have yet to meet Grinnell at Lawrence and Washington and Missouri away from home. Kansas easily defeated the Kansas Aggies and Ames at Lawrence last week, and against Ames showed real championship form.

The first game of the week was the Drake-Missouri tilt at Des Moines last night. The Bulldogs outplayed the Tigers throughout, according to newspaper reports and the Tigers left the court beaten by a 37 to 23 score. The Missouri team has been showing a varied-colored brand of basketball all during the season. Losing most games by a narrow margin and then through for a win against the conference leaders, such as Oklahoma. The Drake Bulldogs have been improving since the first of the month and are putting up a strong finish this season.

Missouri plays the Iowa Aggies at Ames tonight. Tomorrow night Kansas meets Drake at Des Moines.

As a preliminary game this evening at the High School gymnasium, the Miller bunch of Hopkins, an independent quintet, will mix with the College Cubs. This curtain-raiser will start at 7:15 o'clock.

The Springfield team missed connections at Kansas City and was forced to come to Maryville by the way of Ravenwood, not arriving here until late this afternoon.

The Bearcats and the Bears will furnish the feature game of the evening immediately after the preliminary. H. Frank Lawrence, coach, has secured Sam Dubin of Bedford, Ia., to referee the games tonight.

Greek Wrestler a Benedict.

Gust Karrass, night cook at the Star Cafe, and Miss Goldie Fanning, an employe at the glove factory, were married this morning. A wedding dinner will be served at the cafe at 6 o'clock this evening with plates laid for 14. The groom is a professional wrestler and a contender for the middleweight championship of Missouri. Thursday night he defeated Joe Anderson, known as the "Macon Cyclone," and immediately afterwards took Kid Dexter of St. Joseph and pinned him to the mat in 9 minutes with a double wrist lock. The bride said she would encourage her husband in his athletic ambitions. "I'm proud of him," she declared with enthusiasm, after she had likened him to a Greek gladiator of old vanquishing an adversary in the Athenean arena. The couple will reside in Chillicothe.—Chillicothe Tribune.

"As I see it, the board has two main jobs to do:

"Make suitable plans for carrying on the next year's work before notices are posted.

"The hiring of the teacher must be carefully done at a definite meeting.

"If a school is to function in this day and age it must be a twentieth century school. What is a twentieth century school?

"It must have at least fifteen students. No teacher can teach a good school with four or five or six students. If you are sending your boy or girl to a school where there are only four, five or six students you are not giving your boy or girl a square deal; because he does not learn how to get along with other children.

"A twentieth century school must have a modern heating and ventilating system, slate blackboards, sanitary water supply, well equipped library and all of the rest of the fifteen points."

Such popularity must be deserved

TO BE singled out for public honor, a man must have proved his quality. And to be chosen by millions, even a cigarette must have "made good."

So Chesterfield's swift rise to popularity is more than a measure of success. It is proof positive of finer tobaccos—which means better taste.

And better taste is the sole reason for Chesterfield's huge sales.
